MISS CARLA RENEE' VARNER

Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Varner of Pamplin take pleasure in announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carla Renee', to Mr. James D. Torrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Torrence of Appomattox.

Miss Varner will be a June graduate of Appomattox County High School.

Mr. Torrence was a 1973 graduate of Appomattox County High School, attended VPI & SU and is presently employed with Thomasville Furniture Industries in Appomattox.

The wedding date has been set for July 26, 1975. The ceremony will take place at Liberty Baptist Church at 7 p.m.

All friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend.

So you're going to be married . . . going out to shop for the most important things that you will ever buy . . . YOUR wedding gown, YOUR trousseau, the furnishings for your first home. You are going to assemble a trousseau, the kind you have dreamed of all of your life. You will have to decide what your attendants will wear, and map out your color scheme. You will have to decide where to honeymoon, and the Travel Bureau will help you make all of your plans; and wherever you go will make your reservations to suit your budget. There are invitations and announcements to be selected, patterns of silver, china, glassware . . . furniture and household equipment to be decided upon. And these things are all new to you.

There are numerous department stores that cater to the bride and are eager to help with all your plans.

Planning includes such as what to do when and where, cost lists, wedding invitations, reception plans, and even where to go on THE HONEYMOON!

No wedding is too small or too large for whole-hearted attention.

It's HIS wedding, too, remember, and the future groom can find invaluable assistance in matters pertaining to the distaff side of the ceremony - from etiquette to apparel.

It will be exciting to pick out your silver, china and crystal patterns . . . and don't forget to count on a happy selection of gifts for your attendants.

Planning your home for two will be exciting, interesting and satisfying rather than exhausting when you take your time making selections for the new home, using your own personal ideas or asking for assistance of interior decorators if you so desire.

To you, on the theshold of a new life, we extend our sincere wishes for your lasting happiness.

Sarah Brown

FBLA "Girl of the Month"

The May "Girl of the Month" has been a most active member this year. She has attended the officers' fall workshop at Longwood College and was a participant in the clerical event at the Regional meeting in March. Our girl has brought food for the Thanksgiving basket, help work on the Homecoming Float, and helped with FBLA Week activities.

This month's girl is chairman of the publicity committee and is reporter of our chapter.

The "Girl of the Month" for May is Sarah Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Brown of Appomattox.

Rustburg Art Show Set For June 2

A sidewalk Art Show will be held in Rustburg on Monday, June 2, and will be on view to the public between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. on the Courthouse Square lawn in front of the Walter J. Haberer Building.

The show will feature the works of prominent Campbell County artists, artists who work in Campbell County, and artists whose works depict Campbell County in some way. Many of the works will be for sale by the artists. This exhibit is being sponsored by the Campbell County Department of Recreation, Cultural Arts Council.

A similar exhibit was held last year on the Courthouse Square and was a great success, attracting over one thousand viewers.

The rain date for this event will be June 16.

The Engagement ...'s parents may ... good news of the ...t a party.If such a ...given, the news is ...rsonally to close ...ives and associates ...phone or telegram ... engagement is announced through the press. Exactly how far ahead of the wedding day the engagement is announced to the public is the bride's and her parents' decision and depends somewhat on local custom. Long engagements have given way to shorter ones, and most engagements are announced approximately three to four months before the wedding. Some, however, are announced only six weeks in advance and others as far ahead as six to twelve months.

If possible, the fiance is in the bride's city on the day the newspaper announcement appears, so together the couple may receive the good wishes of friends.

Rehearsal Dinner Honors Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie D. Throckmorton of Hampden-Sydney entertained at the Parkway Restaurant in honor of Miss Rebecca Penn Harvey and their son, Mr. J. Denny Throckmorton, and the bridal party before the wedding rehearsal on Friday evening, May 23.

The Engagement Ring

The wise fiance lets his bride make the final selection of the engagement ring, often after he has had several in his price range set aside. The bride may, with propriety, express her general preference and suggest that he make this preselection. If the ring is one which has been in the bridegroom's family, the bride may naturally have the stone reset if she wishes. The wedding ring is often selected at the time the engagement ring is chosen.

Acknowledging The Welcome

Into the Fiance's Family

The bride and her parents return the visit of the fiance's parents if they live in the same city and reply promptly to letters received. Should the fiance's parents come from a distance to visit, the bride's parents usually create an occasion to introduce them to relatives and close friends. If the fiance's parents invite the bride to visit them, she naturally accepts their invitation, if possible.

It sometimes happens that the bridegroom's parents are not aware that traditionally it is they who make this first welcoming gesture by calling on or writing to the bride and her parents. Should they fail to make an overture, the bride and her mother should look upon this apparent slight as unintentional. After a reasonable lapse of time, the bride's mother may make the first gesture with a reserved but gracious, well-planned and tactful note or telephone call. The important thing is to establish at the outset a warm relationship between the two families. Just how this is accomplished matters little and it may be the bride herself who takes the initiative.

Best Wishes for the CLASS of '75
